REPUBLICANS GIVE ANSWER TO DEMOCRAT

In a Columbus press dispatch Greene County Republicans were charged with coercion of the old age pensioners by H. J. Berrold, Chief of the State Division of Aid for the Aged.

Coercion as defined by Webster's International Dictionary is: "The application to another of such force, either physical or moral, as to induce or constrain him to do against his will something he would not otherwise have done."

Mr. Berrold evidently never read this definition of coercion, because all that the local Republicans here did was to write a letter to the pensioners telling them the truth of the situation in Ohio.

An article appearing in the Xenia Gazette and other papers of September 6, 1938, carried a dispatch from Washington as follows:

"Ohio Pensioners Head In Absent Washington, Sept. 6.—(UP) Administration of the Ohio Old Age Assistance Administration failed today to appear for a scheduled hearing before the Federal Social Security Board to answer charges that old age pensioners in Ohio were used for political purposes."

"Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer asserted their failure to appear constitutes an admission of the truth of charges of misadministration."

"Altmeyer added that their failure to appear is no surprise to the board."

The hearing was ordered to determine whether federal grants-in-aid should be withdrawn from Ohio."

This article was printed and sent to the pensioners along with a letter telling that if Bricker is elected the old age pension will never be used for political purposes and they will under those circumstances be sure to get their pension. If this is coercion, then the Webster definition thereof is incorrect.

The State administration has used the old age pension for political purposes from the very beginning. Governor Davey wrote many letters to the pensioners. All of the Old Age Boards in Ohio were instructed to get out and work for Davey, which they did.

When did it become wrong for a Republican to do something and the same act right for a Democrat?

The Government under the present administration has used all kind of coercion to get people to vote the Democratic ticket, including the spending of millions of dollars to get votes, and the members of the state administration shook down hundreds of civil service employees in violation of the law, and this was so open that even a Democratic Attorney General could not stand for it, and he had eighteen of them indicted, and they are to be brought up in Columbus this fall for trial.

But if a Republican raises his voice in protest, he is guilty of coercion, according to Mr. Berrold. Has America become the same as Germany, where under Hitler people are afraid to speak? Regardless of what Mr. Berrold says, we intend to keep on telling: The Constitution of the United States and State of Ohio gives us that right, and up to date we think it is still greater than Mr. Berrold.

He wonders where we got the old age pension list. Is this list some treasured, sacred document that only he is privileged to see? Well, we got the list. Wouldn't he like to know where and how?

Mr. Berrold failed at the request of the Federal Government to appear in Washington to answer the charges against the State administration. He had better clean up his own skirts before he charges anybody else with wrong doing. We are ready to fight for our rights and will in the language of Shakespeare's Macbeth say: "Lay, Macbeth, and damned be he who first cries, 'Holla, enough!'"

The above was in reply to Mr. Berrold by Frank L. Johnson, Campaign Manager and Harry D. Smith, Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee.

Many Farmers To Plant Barley

With the low price of wheat and reduced acreage allotment of this crop many Greene County farmers are turning to winter barley this fall according to County Agent, E. A. Drake. The crop is somewhat less winter hardy than wheat, but is a reasonably safe crop to plant.

However, it should not be sown until October 1, the fly free date for the county. Legume seedlings succeed about as well in winter barley as in wheat. The barley makes an earlier, denser growth in the spring than wheat but it ripens earlier and is not likely to lodge. Spring seedlings in winter barley should be made early.

Six or eight pecks is a normal seeding rate for winter barley. Locally grown seed should be used when possible, but there is no certified seed available in Ohio. Yields of winter barley on test plots at Columbus have been 300 pounds to the acre greater than yields from Trumbull wheat. One hundred pounds of barley equals 95 pounds of wheat in feeding value.

Earl Jones, agronomist, Ohio State University, says farmers with acid soils should apply lime even if the use of fertilizers must be omitted during one crop rotation.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 14 INDICTMENTS

Fourteen indictments, involving 10 persons, were reported by the Greene County Grand Jury for the May court term, following a special session Monday which cleared the criminal docket of all pending cases. Fifty-two witnesses were examined. 27 cases considered, five ignored and one continued until the next court term.

Thomas C. Long, 57, one-time Xenia realtor, was indicted for embezzlement, the charge resulting from a real estate transaction more than seven years ago in which he acted as broker. The indictment was filed by Arthur Rahn, New Jasper township farmer, who asserted Long defrauded him of $1,000 in a farm sale.

Long disappeared from Xenia in May, 1931, and was located by authorities recently in York, Pa., where he had been employed for more than five years with a battery manufacturing firm, under an assumed name. Returned to this city, he pleaded guilty to the embezzlement charge and returned to York.

Other true bills returned by the grand jury were as follows: William Brightman, two indictments for molesting children; Ernest Sheets, two indictments involving three counts for forgery; Corwin Oster, removing mortgaged property; Richard Milligan, three counts of forgery; Don Hill, forgery; Max Conklin, four counts of forgery; William White, breaking and entering; Vernon Pate and Paul Walker, each on charges of automobile theft and breaking and entering.

Brown, candidate for Congress from the Seventh District. Other speakers will be Dr. W. R. McChesney, candidate for State Representative, Miss Hattie Q. Brown, and Miss Margaret Baker, Springfield.

Warren Roberts, Xenia, is chairman for the outing and an ox roast has been planned with plenty of good eats for all. There will be a religious service at 11 a. m., in observance of Emancipation Day to be followed by the ox roast.

Farmers Asked To Observe Fly Date

Blind dates are going to get a lot of Greene County farmers in trouble in 1939 unless all signs fall, according to E. A. Drake, County Agent, who claims that wheat growers have encouraged an increase of Hessian flies by failing to observe the approved planting date of October 1.

An insect survey made in wheat fields of the county previous to the frost showed that 14 per cent of the straw were infested with Hessian Fly. This was three times the infestation last year. The percentage of straw attacked by the fly varied from six to 30 per cent with the greatest damage found in the early planted fields.

Planting wheat at the recommended time is the only known practical way of controlling the insect. The larvae of the Hessian fly live inside wheat stems, and weaken the plant so that it breaks over before the wheat ripens. Wheat borne on the broken stems may be shrunken or it may be impossible to gather the heads by ordinary harvesting methods.

Planting is delayed so that the fly does not have a good opportunity to deposit eggs on the wheat still will have time to make sufficient growth before cold weather.

RELIEF MONEY DEVOURED BY OFFICIALS

Relief funds for Greene County for September are being held up on orders of William C. Dixon, State Relief Director, unless the cost of operating the Greene county office is reduced from about 21 per cent to 12 per cent, the limit under the law.

Inasmuch as no Republican has ever had full jurisdiction of the relief set-up in this county, the charge falls on Democratic office holders who seem to have made good use of the funds before the unfortunate and needy could get their little bit. The state director makes the open charge of excessive high salaries.

Dixon has suggested to the county commissioners that a conference be held to work out a satisfactory solution. The August funds have been held up also because no re-registration of clients had been filed within the required time. Some time ago the local office blamed a state auditor, Herbert Sefferlin, but he passed the buck back to the county and it is said can uncover much irregularity in handling funds and commodities. The whole relief set-up in this as well as other counties in Ohio have been used for political purposes by the Democratic county organizations and threats have been made of cutting off clients if they did not vote the Democratic ticket.

Some weeks ago the Cedarville Twp. Trustees turned the whole relief problem in this township back to the county commissioners. Local officials could not get co-operation in handling the situation here. Since the local officials took that action Miami Township Trustees have passed the relief requirements for that township back to the county.

The farm where Mr. Hamman has been located has been sold to Mr. Fred Chase, Selma, who will move there next month.

Mr. Hamman states that he will handle nothing but pasteurized milk, cream, cottage cheese and other popular dairy products. He will dispose of his herd of dairy cattle.

PROPOSAL TO WIDEN FEDERAL PIKE STATE ROAD

The County Commissioners have plans for turning over the Federal pike from the Xenia-Jamestown pike to the Madison county line to the State Highway Department when it will become a secondary highway under the care of the state. The state insists on a 50-foot right of way and the commissioners have been holding meetings with land owners to get the proposition before them. Land owners are now filing such complaints and claims for damages to fences and amount asked for land with the board.

CHARTER PETITIONS RETURNED IN XENIA CITY

SWEETENING THE TAMMANY TIGER

Thousands of columns of newspaper space has appeared the past month in American newspapers covering the trial of the New York gangster, James J. Hines, member of that famous Democratic organization that has had political protection to operate a $30,000,000-a-year policy racket in New York. Justice Pecora has suddenly declared a mistrial for Hines, regardless of the fact that Prosecutor Dewey produced more than forty witnesses to prove his case.

It is interesting to review the early history of Pecora, a New Deal product, brought before the public by FDR to send Andrew Mellon to prison, a clever method of using the former secretary of the treasury as a political scapegoat to attract New Deal attention.

Following months of publicity and a few weeks of actual trial Andrew Mellon was acquitted. Fixing judges is one thing but fixing twelve men on the jury is something else. Mellon in his advanced years died and left most of his vast estate to the government that future generations could profit from an educational standpoint.

Pecora did his part in the New Deal setup and was rewarded by being given a judgeship appointment. Now comes the season for elections. Regardless of the fact that FDR has publicly condemned Tammany, now comes his political associate, Pecora, who declares a mistrial against a Tammany racketeer and he is given his freedom—until after the November election.

The New Deal must have Tammany and its political power to carry New York. We have had instructed juries from Judges as part of our legal procedure but it appears that inside instructions for judges from higher up is now the order. Justice Pecora is on the spot and Congress should start an investigation immediately following the next session opening in January.

"AND THE STRONG SHALL DEVOUR THE WEAK"

With Japan gradually conquering her weak neighbor, China; civil war in Spain where the strong are over-powering the weak; why then object to Germany's invasion of Czechoslovakia? Italy took one of the oldest Christian nations in Ethiopia in her greed for more power and not one of the dominant powers of the world protested. Mussolini informed the world what he wanted and would take. Hitler has done the same thing for Germany.

When England, posing as a consort for Ethiopia, gave consent to the wishes of Mussolini, the whole world gasped, but the Italian dictator had his way. The Czechs have no more of a friend in the part England and France are playing than had Ethiopians. England will sit at the table and not consent to divide a weaker nation to have "peace" with Mussolini and Hitler.

We of this day may not have to live many years to see the Germany of old march across France demanding payment for France's part in the World War. When France betrays the Czech treaty Monday she deserves any penalty Germany might demand.

Here is a bit of news of interest to New Dealers. A wealthy Springfield manufacturer, a Democrat of the old school, one who contributed $5,000 to the Democratic campaign, has enough of the New Deal while trying to make a little money operating his plant three or four hours a few days each week. Until recently a large picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt graced the walls of this manufacturer's office. The picture is now missing. The answer is that the manufacturer is still a Democrat and for Democrats. He has no use for a Communist even though he might be the head of the Democratic party. Clark County Democrats were shocked on hearing the news, only a few days before Postmaster General James Farley visited the city. Democrats some of these days are going to hear more interesting news out of Georgia and where the birthday dance funds go. The little White House is destined to become the smoke house for the ham actors in the Roosevelt Family Circus.

We notice that another New Deal daily paper closes its doors and passes to the "happy hunting ground"—the Flushing, N. Y. Journal, which has preached the doctrine of Thomas Jefferson for ninety-seven years. Increasing costs, excessive federal and state corporation taxes and social security taxes with decreasing revenue under the New Deal prosperity period was more than the management could face. Advertisers long ago found that retail business would not keep the doors open if the management had to depend on WPA, PWA, and doles to "prime the pump" six years in succession. Almost every newspaper that has suspended the past year or so has been an early supporter of the New Deal.

A cartoon some days ago pictured the financial condition of the insurance companies and banks in the country. The largest buyers of government bonds have been these institutions, both under government control to a large extent. The New Deal has proposed nationalization for the life insurance companies and also intimidation that there should be an investigation. With the cash box of an insurance company loaded with New Deal bonds what is there to investigate? From another source we learn that 24 banks in the country that have government insurance for depositors, have closed so far this year. However, this bit of news was never given the newspapers by the New Dealers or newspapers supporting that cause.

Malcolm W. Bingley, the "Good Morning" columnist, the Detroit Free Press proposes a parody on the "Modern Mother Goose" in behalf of that little group of United States Senators that had the nerve to openly oppose the Communist Roosevelt, who sought dictation by the Supreme Court packing proposal which was defeated. This Roosevelt defeat brought about his personal determination to defeat each of the members as they come up for re-nomination. He was determined to use the Hitler method and "purge" each from public life. Mr. Bingley mused with the following over the "purge":

Ten little purges, fore the firing line;
"One" was saved by patriots, then there were nine.
"Senator Van Nuys, of Indiana."

Nine little purges, waiting for their fate;
"One" defied the dictator, then there were eight.
"Senator Gillette, of Iowa."

Eight little purges, on their way to heaven;
"One" laughed at Der Fuehrer, then there were seven.
"Senator Clark, of Missouri."

Seven little purges, fighting in the sticks;
"One" socked a man named Pope, then there were six.
"Congressman D. Worth Clark, of Idaho."

Six little purges, hawks in a hive;
"One" stung a Maverick, then there were five.
"Paul Kilday, of Texas."

Five little purges, now all out for govt;
"One" slapped down McAdoo, then there were four.
"Sheridan Downey, of California."

Four little purges, fighting to be free;
"One" fought the Civil War, then there were three.
"Senator Smith, of North Carolina."

Three little purges, feeling rather blue;
"One" defied the White House, then there were two.
"Senator Tydings, of Maryland."

Two little purges, watching what is done,

"But marching through Georgia, with hove only one.
"Senator George, of Georgia."

One little purge, fighting all alone;
"One" little purge, game to the bone.
"Congressman O'Connor, of New York."

And when the purge is over,
How happy we will be;
For the dictatorial purge
Is now the real purge.

H. J. Borrodin, chief of the state division for the aged, in a press report given out Tuesday, seems to have assumed Hitler's attitude, that Germany is first, just as the Democrats are first with the old age pensioners. The chief has some objection to Republican chieftains in the county sending a letter to pensioners, yet the smell of the recent Democratic primary is not yet out of the nostrils of Ohio citizens where charges of New Dealers in Washington filed against Gov. Davey and Borrodin indicated something was rotten with the state department. Gov. Davey refused to let Borrodin go to Washington to represent the state at a hearing. In fact the Governor admitted most all charges of what his faction of the Democratic party had done to get the pension vote and he asked the New Dealers to admit they had done similar things to get votes for Charles Sawyer, Davey's opponent.

Of course neither the pensioners nor the average citizen will pay any attention to what Borrodin has said or will say in the future. Right or wrong he will still be the guardian angel for the pension vote for the Democratic candidates and do all he can to see that no Republican gets a look in. Just to give the chief a few things to think about and keep the public interested we might say that the old age pension board in Greene county has never been constituted according to the law which says there must be two members of each political party, meaning two Republicans and two Democrats. O. A. Spahr is the only Republican member and has been the only member representing that party since the board was formed. The other three are Democrats.

Now that Mr. Borrodin has raised the question as to the right of Republicans to write a letter to pensioners we have but one question to ask him: "Do you know whether or not the wife of a Democratic member of the Greene county board transferred her interest in a farm so that the board could grant her an old age pension?" Mr. Borrodin should make this investigation and also give his findings to the public through the press.

Mr. Borrodin—"Is it not a fact that Gov. Davey stated in a press report following the so-called Washington hearing that he would reorganize the Ohio pension department with a new manager thus limiting your activities as a director or chief of the department?" Mr. Borrodin has plenty to think about whenever he attempts to cover Democratic management of the pension fund to blind pensioners and the public over trumped up charges of what the Republicans have done. If the department was operated with a degree of business management there would be plenty of funds for pensioners but to get this hundreds of Democrats drawing $200 a month snooping about would be out of jobs.

convention in Los Angeles, Calif., this week. Arrest Harbage, W. Jefferson, learned that the funds were to be used for railroad trips for Democratic members of the Legion that were out for a free trip. The State Auditor issued the warrant and the check was cashed at a Columbus bank. The Legion leaders forgot the bands and purchased tickets and set out for California. Now the bank is out the $15,000 until an injunction suit brought by Harbage is settled. The head of the Budget Commission under Gov. Davey, a member of the Legion, headed the delegation to Los Angeles, and must answer to the court in the injunction suit. Why they should have $15,000 to hire bands is a debatable question but brings out the suggestion as the legislature does not provide joy rides for delegates to conventions sponsored by bankers, grocers, brick masons, lawyers and newspaper men. The National Editorial Association meets next June in Alaska and what a fine thing it would be to have Ohio taxpayers donate $15,000 to purchase tickets for publishers as has been done for members of the Legion who asked for the unreasonable and the legislature was foolish enough to grant the request. What would the Legion say if the Communists in Ohio wanted $15,000 to visit their sidekick in the White House?

"Constitution Day"

Emphasizing the virtue of studying the constitution, Dr. W. R. Speaking on the 151st anniversary of the forming of the constitution, Dr. McCaskey declared: "We all should study the constitution as it is the guardian of our liberty and the hope of our posterity." Teachers Enjoy Picnic

Teachers, their wives, and husbands held a steak roast, Tuesday evening, at Bryan State Park. A delicious supper and pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Noon Permits

Another problem that confronts the school authorities is that of requests for permits to go down town at noon. No pupil who does not regularly go home during the noon hour is permitted to leave the school grounds without first securing a permit at the office. The reason for the permit must also be given.

Parents who do not desire their children to go down at any time are requested to notify the office. It would be much better for all concerned if the pupil would bring a written request from home before asking for a permit. Although this will not be required for the present, however, parents are urged to cooperate with the office in order that pupils will not abuse the noon permit privilege.

Conduct To and From School

Every effort is made to safeguard pupils on their way home from school in the evening and also on the playground. All teachers are assigned regular duties for noon and for evening—but down town—to see that pupils conduct themselves in an orderly manner in the school building as well as outside and on their way home from school.

With the exception of the first and second grades, however, teachers are not assigned down town duty at noon. If this becomes necessary some arrangement will be made for this additional duty.

All pupils are carefully instructed that good conduct is expected of them on the way to and from school as well as on the school property. According to law the school has complete jurisdiction over pupils from the time they leave home until they return in the evening.

The office will appreciate receiving any report of misconduct along the streets. Any such reports will receive prompt and careful attention.

Safety Patrol

The School Safety Patrol has been organized again to assist pupils in crossing the streets and also in the promotion of good conduct both at school and on the way home from school. The Safety Patrol which is sponsored by the State Highway Department and the various automobile clubs is now found in practically every public school system. These boys deserve the full support and cooperation of the community in their endeavor to assist the teacher in preventing accidents and promoting safety. Their work in the past has not only been successful but meritorious as well. The Safety Patrol is now considered a very worthwhile organization of the school system.

Coach Hagg Tells His Health Secrets
"I have practiced no drinking, no gambling, and no smoking. I have drunk no tea and no coffee. I am not preaching, I merely pass this on to you."

Such was the recent statement of 75-year-old Coach A. A. Hagg when he stopped at the University of Chicago during the trip on which he and his wife were taking turns at the wheel while driving from California to Yale University for the fifty-fifth reunion of his graduation class.

Mrs. Gaynor Maddox, writing in the Hamilton (Ontario) Spectator says: "Afternoon tea has come back at many of the smartest afternoon social gatherings now. Neither cocktails nor highballs make their appearance. Tito Schipa, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, enroute to California, asked what message he would send to high school students, replied, 'Tell them for me, to leave liquor alone in all its forms . . . if they expect to sing and be successful.'"

If legitimate industries and businesses would stop long enough to consider, they would soon see that booze is a mighty factor in all their troubles and then probably they would unite with one accord to drive it forever from the land.—The Index.

Drinkers To Have Hard Times

In Tacoma
Troubles are in store for Tacoma, Washington, drinkers, according to recent press statements.

The announcement has been made by Police Judge F. A. Magill of that city that in his court fines for liquor offenders are to be $250 instead of the $100 charged hitherto. In addition, County Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Johnston has promised to sentence all so-called "openkay" offenders according to the state liquor act—30 days in jail for a first offense, 90 days for a second, and for offenders thereafter six months.
